 Cabin mate requests are not guaranteed and will only be considered if campers are registered in the same program, are within one year of age of each other, and both request each other in this section of their registration. If the request is granted, the older camper will typically be placed in the same age group as the younger camper. In our experience, campers experience the best outcome when they are in a cabin with campers that are of a similar age. We therefore discourage requests for siblings that are different ages to be in the same cabin group. Some of the benefits of sending your child to camp are building their confidence to face new situations, learning how to make new friends, and exploring who they are outside of their regular settings. In most situations, these benefits are best achieved when a child is in a different cabin than family, friends or school mates.
